

CAROLE KARIUKI

Currently:

- Chief Executive Office, Kenya Private Sector Alliance (KEPSA), a business consortium seeking to create an enabling business environment in Kenya and East Africa.
- She serves in several institutions including: National Council of Administrative Justice (NCAJ), Center for Corporate Governance (CCG) and Nairobi Centre for International Arbitration (NCIA).

Previous experience:

She worked briefly at Barclays Bank of Kenya before taking up leadership training and working at the Nairobi Chapel. She then worked at the Sagamore Institute for Public Policy Research, Indianapolis – Indiana as a Research Fellow and later, as an Associate. Her work at the Institute led to a partnership with Kenya Private Sector Alliance (KEPSA) where she was later recruited as CEO.

Awards:

She has been recognized with several awards for her role in Business Sector development including: The Moran of the Burning Spear (MBS) 2012, Heads of State Commendation (HSC) 2011, The Business Daily's Top 40 under 40 women in Business, Commendations for her Role in growing sustainable business initiative and her Role in the UN Global Compact by UNDP 2006, Outstanding role in creating public private partnerships for business growth by ILO women entrepreneurship Development 2011.

Education:

- Bachelor of Arts Degree in Economics and Sociology from University of Nairobi
- Masters Degree in Public Administration and International Affairs from Bowling Green State University, Ohio